NEW ROAD OPENED

The new section of the Red Trail highway, connecting Frank and Blairmore and eliminating two very dangerous bridges, was opened to traffic on Friday last, and general expressions of approval of this section are heard from all quarters.

Besides doing away with the two bridges, the road is straightened, carrying only the slight curve almost paralleling the C.P.R. at that point.

Construction work was in charge of Foreman Anderson, who is to be congratulated upon his splendid effort, which afforded a considerable amount of relief work during the past two or three months.

FISHERMEN CUE FOR UNEXPECTED SOAKING

Simultaneously with the advent of the 1931 fishing season came the announcement that prices of liquors, most popular with the fishermen, had been raised. The advances run from twenty to fifty cents per Imperial quart. No statement has been made as to why this unreasonable advance is justified. It will not result in more revenue for the province, but rather curtail the sale and consumption of liquors. Alberta consumers have been soaked sufficiently up to now, and the public rather expected a cut in prices.

CASSIDY CONFESSES

According to Inspector E. W. Bavin of the Calgary division, Alberta provincial police, and formerly of this city, all doubt that James Edmund Cassidy, 19 years, of Truro, N.S., is other than "The Kid," missing member of the gang which murdered Ernest Midwinter on the Macleod trail last August, has been removed. A telegram received from the Nova Scotia provincial police, the Alberta officials learned that Cassidy had confessed to implication in the murder, that he was in the car when Midwinter was shot and that he registered in a Denver hotel as James MacDonald when the four were making their "getaway."

Detective Harvey, of the Calgary A.P.P., and who was actively engaged in locating Radko and Jones, other members of the same gang who were hanged at the local provincial jail, has left Calgary for Truro and will bring Cassidy back. He has been arrested on a charge of murder and will be placed on trial in Calgary.

It is possible that the charge against Cassidy will be reduced to "accessory after the fact of murder," as was done in the case of Albert Allen, who turned king's evidence at the trial. Allen is now serving a term of life imprisonment at Prince Albert penitentiary.—Lethbridge Herald.

WEST WILL LEAD WORLD IN RETURN TO NORMAL SAYS DAVIS

Returning from their convention at the Pacific Coast, Canadian Manufacturers' Association delegates, last week, carried to their homes in the East a greater appreciation of the West, its resources, and the part the railways have played in western development, declared Elmer Davis, past president of the Association, acting as spokesman for the more than eighty members in the party, which travelled by special train.

One of the major objects of the trip to the coast, Mr. Davis said on his return East, was a desire on the part of eastern industrialists to travel through Western Canada and to study conditions and the difficulties under which the prairie farmer is working.

During the tour, the delegates were particularly pleased at evidence that agriculturalists are returning to cheaper methods of production.

Faint heart never won fair lady, nor did it ever get away from one.

I.O.D.E. CANADIAN HISTORY PRIZE

The Public Library has organized an annual essay competition on Canadian History. The school board, school staff and the local chapter of the I.O.D.E. have been in close co-operation with the library in this project, which has been made financially possible by the I.O.D.E.

The subject assigned this year to grade VIII was "The Building of the C.P.R."

Officials of the railway have taken a great interest in the contest, and Mr. D. C. Coleman, vice-president, at Winnipeg, has assigned one of his staff, Mr. C. E. Stockill, assistant vice-president, to mark the papers.

The awards will be made at a public meeting to be held on Friday, June 26th, and it is hoped that members of the C.P.R. staff will be present to make the awards.

Further announcements will be made later.

A meeting of the members of the Public Library held on Thursday last, the final steps were taken to establish the Library as a Corporate Body. The board of directors elected were as follows, Rev. J. W. Smith, Messrs. Gillis, Chapell, Ferguson and Macpherson.

A meeting of directors was held at the close of the general meeting, and Rev. J. W. Smith was elected chairman and Mr. Gillis secretary-treasurer.

The formation of a committee on book selection, and which shall be representative of the different interests in the community, was discussed, and action will be taken at the next meeting.

A survey of the service rendered by the Library was made with the view of checking up our qualifications for the government grant to libraries.

Provision is now made whereby residents of Coleman, Frank, Bellevue and Hillcrest may enjoy the privileges of the library on payment of a yearly fee of $2.00. Residents of Blairmore pay a yearly fee of $1.00. In all other respects the same rules apply to out-of-town members as to citizens of Blairmore. The new clubhouse on the Pincher Creek golf course was officially opened last week.

Psychiatrists, assembled at Toronto, propose a "sterilization law" to reduce the percentage of feeble-minded persons. Sterilization would prevent birth of children, not otherwise interfering with those to whom it might be applied. One psychiatrist proposes to show that Abraham Lincoln suffered from a strange mental malady, with a long name, which reminds you of Lincoln's advice to those that told him General Grant drank too much whiskey. He advised other generals to get some of the same whiskey. If psychiatrists could inject some of that Lincoln mental malady into some of our modern statesmen, it might be helpful.—Ex.

ARE CRIMES PINISHED IN PROPORTION TO THE MISERY THEY BRING

It is to be hoped that the next generation will have developed farther along sociological lines than we of the present. The following letter appearing in the Calgary papers, written by Jean McWilliams, puts into words what most of us have been feeling in regard to the varying sentences meted out to lawbreakers during the last few months. While all may not agree, many do.

Allow me space to comment on the sentences that have recently been meted out to young boys; the young immigrant boy, Beattie Andrew Park, who stole three pies and with two companions ate them, for which misdemeanor he was sentenced to six months at hard labor. In the case of Beattie, who held up the Safe-Way store and stole $84, his sentence was seven years and 16 lashes.

Now, I do not uphold breaking the law and certainly recognize that the public must be protected. But are we not going a little too far by handing out such cruel sentences, when we know that by looking up the records of certain real estate sharks and financial brokers that millions of dollars have been stolen. Many homes have been ravished, murders committed and children starved to death through their parents being held up and their earnings and little savings deliberately stolen by these vultures of society. To my mind, those are the real criminals, who have forced the sons of workmen to commit crimes, through the rotten disbursement of public funds.

Many times we have protested these young immigrants being lured to this country under cloak of prosperity, and while we plead and urge that something be done to save the future generation from destruction, some savior of society in the form of a police magistrate metes out such sentences. Is there no limit to the extent of their authority?

Is this the democracy that lured 619,636 Canadians to offer their lives on the battlefields of Flanders in the years 1914-1918? And are the mothers of this generation going to sit quietly by in apathetic and docile submission to such cruel and inhuman treatment of the young fatherhood of the future generation, stigmatizing them with a mark of criminality, when it is just the struggle for life itself?

"They asked for bread and ye gave them a stone."—Vulcan Advocate.

MORAL RESPONSIBILITY CANNOT BE PLACED ON ANY ONE GROUP

Maintenance of single unemployed men will continue to provoke comment, favorable and unfavorable, until such time as more normal conditions return. It is difficult to place responsibility for maintenance due to complicated relationships between Federal and Provincial governments and the municipalities concerned, and with decreased tax collections from one end of the country to the other, it must be generally recognized that continued appropriations for relief by cities and other municipalities will last only so long as banking institutions will tolerate it.

Canada is rather more fortunate than her neighboring country to the south, insofar as the governments which comprise the Dominion have recognized their responsibility toward the unemployed, but the fact remains that until the existing depression is viewed as a state of emergency, demanding some form of social reconstruction to overcome the condition, no one group of individuals can be blamed for failure to provide.—Drumheller Mail.

ALBERTA IS NOT DEPRESSED

The News expresses thanks for a copy of Volume One of the Calgary Market Review. This is a highly readable quarterly report on business in Calgary and district, published by The Calgary Herald. It is called the trade barometer of Southern Alberta. Assuming that it is barometric, then the West, or at any rate the province of Alberta, is not worrying about hard times.

Here are the captions of some of the articles published in the Bulletin, "Motorists preparing to flock to Alberta during coming season," "Dairymen fare well in Alberta," "Prepare for big season," "New Champion well in valley," "Calgary is mercurial hub," "Modern airport serves Calgary," "West has money to spend on play," "West prosperous, says Tilden to visitor," "New companies incorporated," "South is using much fertilizer," "$3,000,000 dam to supply city with fresh water," "Road surfacing work to start," "C.P.R. purchasing $2,000,000 worth of goods yearly in Calgary," "Eastern manufacturers surprised with market possibilities in West," "Water works report profit," "Auto population grows," "$19,000,000 in Calgary savings bank accounts."

All of this goes to show the difference between "depression" and "depressed." It is also good reading for the Maritimes and the rest of Canada.—Truro News.

UNITED CHURCH OF CANADA, 1931 ALBERTA CONFERENCE RESOLUTIONS

1. The Church and Industrial Relations—

A. The extreme gravity of present day conditions challenges the Christian church and her message as never before within our knowledge, and offers an unusual opportunity to further the interests of the Kingdom of God amongst men. Our message is the flaming evangel of God's redemptive grace to the individual and to society, leading toward the complete redemption of humanity in a truly Christian social order. Only through the guidance of the spirit of God will the church be enabled so to inspire the motives of the people, that love and brotherhood will impel us toward a Christian democracy in industry, rather than that violence, growing out of hatred and resentment plunge us into a revolution which will result in tyranny and anarchy.

B. We would reaffirm our resolution of the conference of 1930 as follows:

"We believe that in harmony with the teachings of Jesus we should proceed as rapidly as possible to the creation of an order based on co-operation and service which would displace the present competitive, acquisitive social order."

"In the centre of the thinking of Jesus was man and his needs. As a contrast up to the present the central feature of the economic system is profit."

"The present system has now been under trial for a sufficient period to lend itself to fair criticism, and the present unhappy conditions of overproduction, unemployment, and attendant uncertainties is its condemnation."

"We are convinced that in the Father's world there is a sufficient abundance of necessary commodities to meet the needs of His children. The demand of our day is to bring these commodities under Christian control and distribution; a result which finance, under private control, as the connecting link between production and consumption, has failed to secure."

"We believe that society should regard enforced unemployment as an intolerable menace, producing an unemployable class, with slum conditions, wastage of human energy and personality, and threatening war or revolution. We believe that governments should grapple with this problem with energy similar to that which would be used in a national emergency."

C. In view of the imperative urgency of present economic distress in Western Canada, in which we face the unchristian anomaly of citizens without bread to eat, clothes to wear, or the bare comforts of life; while our elevators are filled with grain, our warehouses overstocked with food and staple necessities, and our available wealth revealed by bank deposits and very large amounts expended on amusements, gambling and intoxicating liquors, we would urge that the immediate attention of our governments, federal, provincial and municipal, be concentrated upon adequate co-operative effort to solve these pressing problems. We believe that the opportunity for work is our primary economic need, and is an essential obligation resting upon the state in order that equality of opportunity for steady remunerative employment, and access to wholesome living conditions may be available to all.

2. World Peace—

We rejoice in the growing sentiment against war evidenced by thinking people in all lands, and particularly by the growing numbers in the Christian church and ministry who endorse the objective set forth recently by Professor Einstein:

"No military training in peace time. No military service in war time. That peace loving people of all nations combine in a strong and active fellowship to promote the will to peace."

We recognize, however, that there are powerful forces growing out of the economic and commercial rivalry of the nations, and ultimately out of the problems of food and population, which are continually making war, and which are the basis of the demand for large armies and navies, and adequate military preparation. In view of this, we would express our judgment that it is the duty of the Christian church so to stimulate a true internationalism, finding expression in political and economic life, in commercial co-operation, and in a common effort to understand and meet the basic needs of men as will eradicate the causes of strife and express a common brotherhood.

As instrumentalities of value in promoting peace we would urge:

1. Earnest thought and prayer upon the subject of World Disarmament, that the World Disarmament Conference of 1932 may achieve definite results.

2. An increasing study of the possibilities of The League of Nations as a great medium for International understanding.

3. A continuance of the agitation against cadet and military training as being out of harmony with The Will of Peace.

I'm going to sit in the corner's seat
And hurl the cynic's ban
At the clustered huts along the road
That offend the eye of man.

I wanted a house by the side of the road—
Not a cabin, cribbed, confined;
I'm going to be a friend of men
Who are not wholly blind.—Ex.

Why "GP" Cord Material is "cut on the bias"

A tire in service is subjected to severe stresses from every angle. To successfully stand these strains the plies of cords are criss-crossed . . . For greater strength each ply of cord is laid at right angles to the other. The strength is in this angle-wise construction . . .

These plies are accurately cut "on the bias" by a machine adjusted to the fraction of an inch . . . "GP" insulated cords absorb the road shocks . . . hold against all strains and add to the strength already imparted by the Gum Cushions and Resist tread. "GP" Tires are sold at all "Gum Cushion Tire Stations."

EAST KOOTENAY POWER
CO. MAINTAINS NET

A Montreal report says: A moderate decrease of about $44,000 in gross earnings of East Kootenay Power Co.
Ltd., for the year ended March 31, 1931, placed the total at $541,811, against which reduced expenses were almost a complete offset, so that operating net of $358,232 was almost steady with $354,850 reported a year earlier.

For the fourth successive year, no depreciation was charged out of profit and loss, but interest requirement gained $24,300, placing net for shareholders at $76,837 against $102,820 in 1930, $86,101 in 1929, $65,580 in 1928, and $56,006 in 1927. The $7 preferred dividend was earned in the year with a margin of 68c per share to spare against last year's earnings of $10.25 per share, or a $3.28 margin, while in 1929 the excess over the dividend was $16.61. On the common last year the balance after preferred dividends equalled 23c per share against $1.09 in 1930, 53c in 1929, 14c in 1928, and 12c in 1927. As no dividends were paid on the common, surplus was raised to $72,033.

Current liabilities of $1,901,149 (including all payables) exceeded current assets by $1,872,065. Plant investment gained some $170,000, to $5,430,344, with total assets also higher at $5, 557,632. Depreciation reserve continues at $175,450.

Important physical developments undertaken in the year substantially broadened the company's operating scope.

HOLLYWOOD PRODUCER
RETURNS HOME

Hal E. Roach, producer of some of the funniest pictures turned out of movieland, and his hunting companion, C. B. Brunson, also of Hollywood, left Jasper Park Lodge last week by airplane on the return trip over the wild mountain fastnesses stretching between there and Los Angeles. The Californians have completed a successful invasion of the haunts of North America's most dangerous big game, the grizzly bear.

Roach's daylight hop from Los Angeles to Jasper National Park, piloted by Capt. J. B. Dickson, was a history-making flight. The fliers did not attempt to make the entire journey to Los Angeles in one hop, however, but spent a night in Reno, Nevada. A stop was made for fuel at Spokane, Washington.

The two sportsmen bagged two bear apiece during their hunt in the Moose River district on the West slope of Mount Robson, monarch of the Canadian Rockies. Roach shot a grizzly and a black bear while Brunson was rewarded with a pair of fine grizlies. Game of all kinds were seen in the Mount Robson district, with caribou, moose, mountain goats and deer in abundance.

The death occurred at Calgary on Sunday evening last of Mrs. Rita Piccarelli, mother of Mrs. Stephen Piccarelli, at the ripe age of seventy-four years. Mrs. Piccarelli was born in Italy and came to Calgary with her family in 1908. Besides her husband, D. Piccarelli, and daughter, Mrs. Piccarelli, she leaves two other daughters, Mrs.
N. Galligelli, Calgary, and Mrs. C.
Maralla, Port Alberni, B.C.; also two sisters in Italy. A son, Fred, predeceased her two and a half years ago.

The Spirit Of Adventure

Sir Edward Grigg, Governor of Kenya, one of Britain's East African Dependencies, who is at present on furlough in England, recently delivered an interesting address in which he noted a decline in the old British sense of adventure and made an appeal for a re-kindling of this spirit in the new generation. Without it, he held, the new generation would not be the equals of their fathers, grandfathers and great-grandfathers—those three generations that, practically within the reign of Queen Victoria, had built up the Empire as we know it today.

Decline in this sense of adventure Sir Edward attributed to the nervous depression produced by the Great War, and he urged that a revival of it would tend to promote support at home for development overseas, and that this would keep Britain and the Empire strong.

It may be that Sir Edward is right and that the old roving spirit which sent Englishmen, Irishmen and Scotsmen into all the nooks and corners of the world, civilized and uncivilized, and which in years gone by brought Canada, India, a large portion of Africa, and many of the isles of the seven seas under the Union Jack, is not the impelling force it once was in the lives of British youth. But, on the other hand, it is not possibly true that the same spirit exists but in the changed conditions of the world of today it is merely finding other avenues of expression?

Tens of thousands of young men enlisted in the Great War purely in a spirit of adventure and Sir Edward is no doubt right that in that grim struggle they became disillusioned and a sense of depression followed on the heels of exhilaration. Again, thousands of the most daring spirits among the young men of this generation gave their lives in that great adventure, men who today would otherwise be found following in the footsteps of their sires and grandfathers.

But is not youth today much as it has always been? Before the Great War many people entertained the opinion that mankind had become soft, that it could not face the sufferings and sustain the hardships accepted by former generations as inseparable from existence. The stamina displayed in the Great War demonstrated, to the amazement of all, how erroneous were all such ideas.

Is the spirit of adventure dead, or even on the decline? The attempt of Sir Hubert Wilkins and his companions, upon which they are now embarked, to make a dash in a submarine under the ice fields of the Arctic constitutes an adventure more daring than any that excited the imagination of a Jules Verne.

Or consider the recent adventure of Professor Picard, and his assistant Charles Kipper, who in a hermetically sealed aluminum ball attached to a balloon soared over 52,000 feet, almost ten miles, into the air, into that rarified stratosphere where winds do not blow, nor clouds form, but where the stars shine by day.

Then let us recall our own daring Canadian aviators who carried out the observation patrol along Hudson Straits to determine the ice conditions and navigability of that route, or who month in and month out maintain the forest fire patrols through our northlands, or are engaged in mapping unknown portions of Canada from the air.

All over the world daring and adventurous Britishers, including young Canadians, are engaged in engineering enterprises, building huge bridges, dams, hydro-electric plants, railways, amid jungles and in almost inaccessible places with the same zest and enthusiasm which carried their forebears into the unexplored regions of a by-gone past.

Canada this year celebrates the fiftieth anniversary of the commencement of the Canadian Pacific Railway—a great adventure—followed by a still greater adventure on the part of the thousands of men and women who in a few short years settled and transformed the prairies of Western Canada into great wealth producing provinces now inhabited by over two million people.

No, the sense of adventure is not dead; we doubt if it is even on the decline. For example, give a thought to the daily adventures in the realms of science and industry, where patient and courageous souls are discovering more wonderful and finer things than ever did the romantic discoverers and explorers of the past.

Today the sense of adventure is very much alive, but it manifests itself in new ways and in different channels in keeping with the changed conditions of a scientific and machinery age as contrasted with those which preceded the age of steam and electricity. That is all, and there is no ground for pessimism that the British race is losing its determination and grit.

Insanity Increases

Stock Market Losses Are Held Responsible By Mental Hospital Authority Of Quebec

Stock market losses were blamed for an increase in the number of the insane during a discussion at the American Psychiatric Association Convention at Toronto by Dr. A. H. Desloges, director of mental hospitals for the province of Quebec.

The increase of insanity in his province for the past year was 14 per cent. of the total number of cases as compared with the previous year's increase of five and a half per cent. said Dr. Desloges, and he attributed the disparity to the loss of savings by uninitiated investors. He urged government protection for the latter as a step in mental health.

Today's Fish Story

When an English sheep dog was chased by a 45-kilometre muskellunge, while swimming in the Rideau River, at Ottawa, the dog hit for shore. So did the fish. Mr. Fish became stranded in shallow water, where a boulder was thrown killing it. The fish weighed 25 pounds.

Improved Method For

Surveying From Air Described By Chief Of British Topographical Survey

A new and improved method of aerial survey was described to the Royal Society of Canada by Brig-Gen. Sir Charles DeLamare-Radcliffe, chief of the British cadastral and topographical survey. Originally developed in Italy, this method, said Sir Charles, was as rapid as stereoscopic surveying by air and as accurate as the old-fashioned transit survey. The photogrammetric method, which has not yet been used in Canada, is based on a series of photographs from the air, each of which overlaps the next picture by 65 per cent. It is regarded as a great improvement over surveying methods now in use.

Became Weak and Run Down Mrs. Wm. Dicket, Glasgow, Ont., writes:—"For a long period I suffered from heart trouble, and became very weak and run down. I tried various remedies, but they did me no good. One day I met a friend and told her of my trouble. She said she had had heart trouble for two years too, but after using Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills for a short time she had been relieved of her trouble, so I got two boxes and after taking them I was in feeling fine, and always recommend H. & N. Seeking Record In Flight Around World

Youths Expect To Make Trip In Ten Days

Willey Post and Harold Gatty, two prudent young men, have agreed out the comparative hazards of flying around the world and trying to cross a busy street—and they've decided to fly around the world.

"We got an expert to look over our motor," said Post at the Hotel Baltimore, New York. "Then we figured our chances. We found we had something like 3½ chances of getting hit by an automobile for every one chance that the motor would stop when it wasn't supposed to."

"No, we're not afraid. If we were, we wouldn't go."

Post used to do what he called "rough necking" in Oklahoma oil fields, and Gatty was an Australian marine navigator.

They've got a great, shiny monoplane, on which they pin their confidence of circling the globe in something less than ten days for a record.

A Queer Bargain

Ten thousand cups of coffee was the payment offered by an Italian at Rovereto, Italy, for a motor car. Payment is to be on the instalment system at the convenience of the seller, but the motor car, a small second-hand model, was delivered in exchange for the promissory note. A further term on the note is that the cups of coffee are transferable and the note negotiable.

The Story Of The Tea Plant

History Points To The Fact That Tea Originally Came From India

There was a Chinaman, we are told, five thousand years ago, penetrated the forests of Assam in India, and discovered the tea-plant. This plant he introduced into his native land.

It is hardly likely that this venture, almost-legendary woodman knew how popular his discovery would be. Probably it appealed to him as a new and hitherto unheard of bush, so he took it back to China, let us say, to plant in his front yard and cause the envy of his next door neighbor.

In spite of this interesting legend the true origin of the tea plant is still unproven. Ancient Chinese authors say the tea plant was growing in China about 2700 B.C. and the province, among them being the Assam and old legends that China is the original home of this plant.

On the other hand India has a strong claim for the honour as well. The tea plant grows wild in the province of Assam, and has more likely flourished over large tracts of primeval country in this province from time immemorial. Since best authorities are agreed that the tea-plant is not indigenous to China we may presume that the story of the Chinese woodman is rather close to fact and that tea originally came from India. The tea-plant belongs to the Camellia family of vegetation. There are several varieties of plants principal among them being the Assam and the China. The word "Tea" is derived from the Chinese local Amoy dialect word "te."

Apparently it was the Chinese who discovered that a beverage could be made from the leaf of the tea-plant, for a Chinese author in the fourth century B.C. writes of a beverage that could be produced by steeping the leaves of the tea-plant in hot water.

A later Chinese writer named Cha Pu tells us that tea had been used only for medicinal purposes until it became popular as a beverage in China during the sixth century A.D. It was not until the sixteenth century that Europe began to sample tea.

In the early days of the seventeenth century the product came to Great Britain from China and fetched the price of 10s. per cwt.

In 1684 Queen Catherine, wife of Charles II, received a present of some tea from the English East India Company. She liked it so well she introduced it into Society and it became the fashionable drink. Needless to say only the wealthy could afford to be fashionable.

So far we have spoken of China as a tea producing country. The tea industry of India is comparatively modern affairs. The earliest mention of its being grown there was in 1870, and about that time the famous Indian Viceroy, Warren Hastings, was instrumental in introducing some varieties of the Chinese plant into India. Many years elapsed, however, before any serious effort was made at cultivating it on a larger scale, and it was only when the tea plant was discovered in India in 1823, to be an indigenous growth in certain parts of India that any energy was displayed in regard to its cultivation. Shortly after that, the Burmese war broke out, and this, together with other troubles of the British Government in India, militated against any progress in the new industry. It was not, in fact, until near the middle of the century that tea-growing in India was placed on a sound footing.

It is in Ceylon, however, that we find the tea plant reaching its full perfection. The climate of that beautiful island, owing to the heavy rainfall, is pre-eminently suited to the cultivation of tea. After a number of experiments had been successfully conducted, the first plantation was opened in 1867. In that year there was ten acres placed under cultivation. Thirty years later (1897) the acreage under tea was over 40,000, and in 1923 over 1 million pounds were exported. Since that time the distinctive quality of Ceylon tea has been gaining greater popularity. This will give some idea of the extraordinary success of the tea industry in Ceylon.

Following are directions for the most satisfactory preparation of tea:

Use—(1) "Salada."

(2) Fresh water.

(3) A earthen-ware tea pot. Scale out the "pot," with boiling water. Use one level teaspoon of tea for every cup desired. Add freshly boiling water, allow to steep about five minutes, then serve.

If the tea is going to stand longer than this it should be poured off the leaves into another heated pot, for it is over-steeping that causes bitterness. Another suggestion is to stir the tea with a spoon before pouring, in order completely to infuse its strength and flavour.

Forced Labor Spreading

Foreign Purchases Help Soviets To Enslave People, Says Duchess Of Atholl

The Duchess of Atholl in an address at London, said there are now several millions of men, women and children performing forced labor in Soviet Russia because of the speed with which the five-year plan is being pushed.

"It is estimated that over five million persons were forcibly deported during the February, 1930 decade, chiefly to the forests of the far north of Russia."

"Many of them arrived there in the winter and had no houses until they had built them for themselves. History I think, records no such wholesale uprooting and banishment of peaceful fellow-citizens as this."

She reported that the forced labor had spread to collective farms, handling the grain and timber and other industries.

"That this enslavement is due to the five-year plan is unquestionable," she concluded. "That the shaping and execution of the plan is being assisted by foreign experts, foreign credits and foreign purchase is further undeniable."

"Canada has taken action to clear herself completely of responsibility in the matter. 'Are countries such as the United States and Great Britain, both of which have made sacrifices in the past in the name of freedom, satisfied to do less?'"

Labor Minister Seeks

Data On Unemployment

Is Making Survey Of Conditions In Western Canada

A survey of actual unemployment conditions throughout Canada will be conducted personally by Senator G. D. Robertson, Minister of Labor. Because conditions in Western Canada are more acute, he will start investigation there. Upon his return, a similar mission will be undertaken throughout Eastern Canada. A detailed report to the government will climax the coast-to-coast trip.

Accompanying Senator Robertson on his western trip will be the superintendent of unemployment service and the director of unemployment relief. Discussions will be held with provincial governments and representatives of the largest municipalities. In addition, first hand information on rural conditions as they exist at present and as they may exist during the fall and winter, will be secured.

Factories Reopened In Orient

The slump in the price of soy beans in Manchuria has proved a blessing for Japanese and Korean farmers, who are able to afford large quantities of bean cake fertilizer. Demand for fertilizer at the new prices has become so great that many Chinese factories making bean oil and cake have reopened after years of idleness. New factories are being organized.

A Lucky Find

After lying for the side of the road outside her residence at Southwell, England, for four and one-half years, a diamond valued at $2,500 has just been restored to Mrs. F. Lewis. The gem fell from her ring on August 19, 1926, and a thorough search for it was made at that time. A street sweeper found it among his sweepings, and received $250 reward.

Pity the census-taker's wife! Can you imagine a more anguishing situation than that of the wife of the writer of census records. Knowing full well that friend husband is in possession of seeds of juicy family history that would kindle the fires of afternoon-tea conversation, and that he is sworn to secrecy—under terrific penalty for violation—it must be heartrending to submit. Of course, the husband could accentuate the condition by dangling deftly veiled tidbits at arm's length and gratify his lust for revenge by thus prolonging the agony. In point of justice, census takers should be appointed from the ranks of bachelors or widowers over the age of sixty years.—Clareholm Local Press.
